"Cinco de Mayo"

Reverend Manish Mishra-Marzetti

It's Cinco de Mayo, and we invite you to join us at church as we honor and celebrate our connection to the cultures and people of Mexico. Rev. Manish will reflect on the historical significance of this day, as well as what we might impart from it from a spiritual angle. How might the traditions, values, and outlook of the Mexican people inform our spiritual journey as Unitarian Universalists? Please join us for this first of a kind commemoration in our community!

May 12 "Happiness: Overrated, Impossible, or the Ultimate Goal?"

Reverend Manish Mishra-Marzetti

So many of us are told to "follow our bliss," figure out what makes us happy, what gives us a sense of fulfillment and meaning. Is this the ultimate goal - happiness? Or is happiness overrated, or perhaps even impossible to hold on to? Join us this Sunday as we explore this important question, one that's central to each of our spiritual journeys.

May 19

"Flower Communion Sunday"

Reverend Manish Mishra-Marzetti, Reverend Julie-Ann Silberman-Bunn, Ministerial Intern Donna Renfro

One of our uniquely Unitarian Universalist traditions, join us as Revs. Manish, Julie-Ann, and Ministerial Intern Donna lead us in this celebration of spring and of the power and importance of community.

We ask that you please bring several flowers with you to share at this service. These could be flowers that you have bought or which are from your garden. The flowers you bring will be part of this Sunday's communion ceremony, and will be shared with others in the congregation. We hope you'll join us for this special tradition!

May 26

Memorial Day for UUs

Ministerial Intern Donna Renfro

Someone recently asked me if a UU congregation would accept her if she worked for the Department of Defense, and supported the military. We will explore the complex relationships Unitarian Universalists have with this holiday.

UUCCH is proud to be a Welcoming Congregation of the Unitarian Universalist Association

Reflections for the Journey

Reverend Manish Mishra-Marzetti, MMishra@aol.com

Reverend Manish is on leave at publishing time. His regular column will return in June.

REMEMBER TO BRING FLOWERS FLOWER COMMUNION SUNDAY IS MAY 19!!!

We invite you to participate in our Flower Communion Service on May 19, by bringing flowers with you to church; the flowers can be bought or can be from your own garden. The flowers will be collected during the service and then shared with others in the congregation as part of the communion ceremony. We hope you'll join us for this uniquely Unitarian Universalist tradition!

Faith-Full Thoughts

Reverend Julie-Ann Silberman-Bunn, revja@aol.com

Spring flowers are a wonderful reminder of Unitarian Bishop Norbert Capek's brilliant idea for a celebration unique to his congregation. The celebration created by Capek has come to be known in many Unitarian Universalist Churches, including ours, as the Flower Communion. Flower Communion is one of the few rituals truly unique to Unitarian Universalism.

Capek was out in the countryside and noticed all of the beautiful flowers that were growing along the edge of the road and in the fields. I had a similar experience today as I journeyed between the buildings at UUCCH today noticing a magnificent tulip, red with white trim standing alone, a few random daffodils popping up in the lawn over by hillside, some spectacular lilacs beginning to burst, and the scent of so many spring blossoms filling the air. I am sure my experience was much the same as Capek's for I, like he, realized that each of these flowers was as unique as each member of our community.

Each person in our UU family is a magnificent bloom, our petals reaching out to be lifted up by the sun, filled with water and nurtured by love. When we come together into our religious community we become the fabulous bouquet that can only be the combination of the varied colors shapes and textures of our gathered lives.

We teach our children in spirit play this story of the creation of the flower communion. The children in Spirit play also have the opportunity to role play the flower communion at the worship station. In the months ahead I will be offering adults an opportunity to be trained in spirit play and also to participate in several sample sessions of spirit play. Spirit play is a wonderful hands-on opportunity for all of us to live our faith. Spirit Play and the flower communion service a reinforcement of our faith for our children, we will all enjoy flower communion on May 19.

~ Faithfully, Julie-Ann

Moving in Spirit

Donna Renfro, Ministerial Intern, bdonna7568@aol.com

In reviewing the by-law changes that are being proposed for vote at the June 9th Annual Congregational meeting, I saw that this congregation has made several resolutions throughout its history, from the first in 1969 regarding conscientious objectors, to the last in 1996, to become a teaching congregation. UUCCH being a teaching congregation is what allows you to have ministerial interns, where you engage the intern in a wide range of ministerial duties, including worship, religious education, pastoral care and counseling, programming, institutional management and finance, program development, and community and social action. I am grateful for the many opportunities I've already had in these areas.

In April, I led my second full worship service, about a topic that is deeply meaningful to me, and very hard to talk about, and even harder to preach about, I discovered. I think I left you without a clear call to action. I want to encourage this congregation to continue its journey, to awaken to new ideas and new solutions, to build the beloved community, in three ways, in the next year. I would like for UUCCH to become one of the first, if not the first, congregation to have an Allies for Racial Equity standing committee in your social justice initiatives. I, along with this committee, would like to offer films, discussions, opportunities to share our stories, and classes at all developmental levels for the new "Who are our Neighbors?" program. I would like to use the resources of the Joseph Priestley UU District's Racial Justice team, which is probably the strongest in the whole country, to guide us on the journey. I have a dream that this congregation can live into its dream of helping our neighbors in Camden, transform our faith community and the larger community, and become a model for other congregations. Will you join me?

Music Notes

Music Notes

Ken Ewan, Music Director, kewan783@comcast.net

There is a song everyone knows or knows of.... You Gotta Sing When the Spirit Says Sing. It is often labeled as a Gospel song or Spiritual. Regardless of what kind of label we chose to affix, it has two parts that are essential for the making of anything (in my case, I of course, think of music) – an idea or emotion that has the power to significantly stir us and then the will and work to make it happen.

In light of last month's events in Boston, it is clear that the Spirit has its very dark side and its resulting actions have tragic consequences. I was heartened to read that MIT was putting together a performance of the Brahms Requiem. Participants and/or observers/worshippers were welcome. The Requiem is considered by many to be the quintessential classical work about our humanity. Composed by the now famous Johannes Brahms (Brahms Lullaby?) between 1865-68 in Germany, he knew about our US Civil War and indeed had experienced the political unrest and the dark spirit of war that plagued Europe for centuries. In this work alone, he managed to do what music does best...to look for the essence of thought and emotion and deliver it in a powerful and memorable way.

As we know from All the types and styles of music that exist, music portrays and reveals all the elements of who and what we are (Classical, Pop, Rock, Jazz, Heavy Metal, Hip-Hop and so on). You have your likes, you have your choices. The scope is literally inexhaustible. There are songs of and about war and peace, our inner most thoughts and feelings. Let's hope when the Spirit comes calling, we respond with Love, Compassion and Understanding.

What's New with the Board of Trustees (BOT)?

Notes From The April Meeting

Two guests were welcomed to the April Board meeting, Lise Neely to report on the activities of the Lay Ministry Team and Stacy LaBelle acting as our secretary in the absence of new daddy, Joe Winter. The meeting began with Bill Abram's thoughtful reading from the work of Fred Rogers. Rev Julie-Ann then presented the Minister's report, noting the tremendous turnout on Easter Sunday for the service as well as for the children's egg hunt. She also commented on the "super" interest that the congregation has shown in pastoral training as an indication that people are looking for and finding ways to connect with one another. She noted the work of Cheryl Dunican Hein in this area.

The Board warmly and officially welcomed two new members of the congregation, Daniel Lewbart and Jui Akhter.

Charlotte Baldassari reported on work with the Lay Ministry Team to help the group better develop monitoring reports as required under our current Policy Based Governance approach to managing church operations. Judy Woods reported on efforts to improve communication among church members and between various groups in the church community. Rosemary White discussed the success of the March Leadership Development weekend and noted that the next session would be Friday evening, May 3 and Saturday morning, May 4. We invite all members of the congregation to attend. Rohn Hein discussed the work of the Bylaws Committee to bring the church bylaws up to date in terms of our present governance structure. He noted that several bylaw changes will be proposed for a vote at the Annual Meeting in June.

In the absence of Rev Manish, Lise Neely reported that a Social Justice survey will be given to the congregation in the next few weeks and will be followed by a Social Justice Summit on May 11. She noted that work was proceeding on the annual stewardship campaign.

Rob MacIver reported on the on-going work of the Core Values and Purpose project initiated with the congregation last fall. He commended committee members Bill Abrams and Kristin Maxwell for their work on this project, as well as the work of Rohn Hein and Rosemary White. The culmination of this work is an Update to the UUCCH Mission to be introduced with a handout on April 14 with a request for congregational reflection through a process of appreciative inquiry. There will also be time for the congregation to share their thoughts with Board members at two Open Forums on April 28, at 9 a.m. and noon.

Fifty Years Ago

From the May Newsletter (Vol. 7, No. 10):

At the Executive Board meeting, Property Committee chairman Lew Wood reported that the concrete steps leading to Unitarian House from the driveway have been installed and the concrete curbing surrounding the trees in the upper parking lot has been completed.

Sermon topics included The Message of Birmingham dealing with the racial demonstrations there, Moses and Monotheism, a review-sermon of the last published book of Sigmund Freud, and On Uses of Leisure in which each year the minister takes a different approach to the same general topic.

Secular UUs

What if you were a minister in a traditional Christian denomination and you lost your faith? Would you declare your lack of faith openly and accept the consequences--losing your job and possibly also your friends and family? Or would you keep quiet and continue in your life as a minister? Are there other alternatives? During our May meeting, the Secular UUs will examine these issues, including the work of the Clergy Project, an organization that provides "a safe haven for active and former clergy who do not hold supernatural beliefs." Please join us at 7 p.m. in the Horsch Room on Tuesday, May 7. All are welcome.

~ Helen Ewan, Secular UUs

Everyday Spiritual Practice Discussion Group

All are invited to the May meetings of the Everyday Spiritual Practice Discussion Group. The book, Everyday Spiritual Practice, is a collection of 38 essays by prominent UU ministers and laypeople. At the May meetings, we will discuss the essay, Parenting, (pp. 173-182). At May's Saturday meeting, Chris and Keith Spigel will be guest leaders. Please join us!

The May meeting times are:

* Thursday, May 16 from 7:30-9:00 p.m. in the Horsch Room

* Saturday, May 18, from 10:00-11:30 a.m. in the Horsch Room

For questions, please contact Robert Schindler (rschindl@camden.rutgers.edu, 856-304-6006) or Mitch Newcomer (mitchnwc@gmail.com, 609-314-0054).

~Robert Schindler, Everyday Spiritual Practice

Sanctuary Begins New Book

On Wednesday, May 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Horsch Room, Libby Williams will lead the Sanctuary group in exploring The Shack: Where Tragedy Confronts Eternity, by William Paul Young. Originally written by the author as a gift for his children, the book uses the shack as a metaphor for what Young calls "the house you build out of your own pain..." or "...the places you get stuck...where shame or hurt is centered." Join us on May 15 to find out more. All are welcome.

Calling All UUCCH Young Artists

Have you been drawing, coloring, painting, or doing interesting art projects at home or school? We invite you to bring your artwork to church for an exhibit in the church Art Gallery for all to enjoy. The exhibit will run from May 26 to the end of June.

When: Bring your art on Sunday May 19 (or during the week of May 19)

Where: Gallery outside Fellowship Hall

Be sure to put your name on your artwork.

Direct questions to Shirlene (shirleneabrams@aol.com) or Kay (kksmith4@verizon.net).

~Shirlene Abrams for Arts & Aesthetics Committee

Film; When The Bough Breaks

May 30, 7 p.m. Participants will discuss the question "Is Inequality Making Us Sick"? after viewing the short film, one of a series of videos created by California Newsreel. The film profiles an African-American lawyer who discusses the preterm birth of her baby and its impact on her life and that of her child. There is a higher rate of preterm birth among African-American women, even after controlling for other factors, when compared to other groups of women. We hope this event will awaken you to new ideas and new solutions as we work together to build a Beloved Community with racial equity for all.

Cherry Hill Food Says Thank You & Offers Another Opportunity

As UUC's representatives to Cherry Hill Food Pantry, we would like to send a very big Thank You to our faithful congregation for your awesome contributions to our Easter collection (& the week before). Your generosity, both food & money donations, has been inspiring. We also want to thank those who attended our Fundraiser at the Coastline that raised over $9,000.

The upcoming dates for our next volunteering opportunities are: Tuesdays, May 7 & 14, from 5-8:15 p.m. & Thursdays, May 9 & 16, from 9:30 a.m.-1:15 p.m. Duties include: packing bags with non-perishables, sorting food, filling shopping carts & escorting our clients to the parking lot. We get to work with other volunteers from a variety of religious groups & get to be seen as contributors to the local community. Please, let us know (scamlin1@comcast.net or Sue at 856-266-3394) if you will join us this May for a few hours of service. The Pantry is located 1 ½ blocks from our church at St Michael's Lutheran.

The Pantry, created in May 2006 with 30 families & 6 churches (we are one of the six founding churches) now consists of nine religious congregations & distributes groceries to over 500 families each month. We are one of over 200 agencies who buy food from the Food Bank of South Jersey and Philabundance.

Again, thanks to all who support us.

~ Yours for Love through Action, Sue Camlin & Felix Ullrich.
